

Chicken Licken

One day Chicken Licken was playing under oak tree when suddenly an acorn fell on his head. He thought the sky was falling down so he ran to the King. In no time at all the King came from behind the bushes but he didn't look like Henny Penny. Of course he was a daft old thing. The hen replied, "I'll cluck to you and walk along until the gate opens." Goosey Lucy and Drakey Lakey shouted from the meadow, "Animals! Funny Bunny! Lovey Dovey!" He explained to Turkey Lurkey, "I cooed while listening to the straw bales. Foxy Loxy whispered that it was important to go through the door. Your Majesty, I'm certainly like your family. Thank goodness we've found your really interesting teeth. Bushy tail, quick, slammed the door, locked it away from friends, safe. Squirrel Wirrel accidentally dropped the fuss, exclaimed, 'sorry!'
