

A decorative border of cartoon owls wearing blue graduation caps and holding wooden pointers, arranged in a rectangular frame around the text.

Fronted Adverbials

A fronted adverbial is a word or a phrase that goes at the beginning of a sentence.

Fronted adverbials are used to describe the action (verb) that follows.

Example:

After school, I played with my friend.

A red arrow pointing from the text box to the underlined phrase "After school,".

This fronted adverbial describes the time of the action.

Fronted Adverbials of Time

In the middle of the night,

Just then,

Last year,

After a while,

Immediately,

On Monday afternoon,

A decorative border of cartoon owls wearing blue graduation caps and holding wooden pointers, arranged in a rectangular frame around the central text.

Fronted Adverbials of Place

In the deep blue sea,

Far away,

Over there,

In the distance,

Nearby,

At the top of the tree,

Fronted Adverbials of Manner

As quick as a flash,

Bravely,

Unfortunately,

Carefully,

Astonishingly,

As quiet as a mouse,

A decorative border of cartoon owls wearing blue graduation caps and holding white pointers, arranged in a rectangular frame around the central text.

Fronted Adverbials of Frequency

Once a year,

Rarely,

Never before,

Every minute,

Occasionally,

More often than not,

A decorative border of cartoon owls wearing blue graduation caps and holding white pointers, arranged in a rectangular frame around the central text.

Fronted Adverbials of Degree

Almost always,

Rarely,

Totally exhausted,

Barely alive,

Very carefully,

Completely surprised,