

Rumplestiltskin

Once upon a time land where icicles grow summer there lived silly miller boasted King daughter Rosalind spin gold so room tall tower told one bale straw morning would never day light sadly cried because she knew could little old appeared who said wipe away your tears fears give necklace next but two ring three first baby luckily pleased married after year boy born night want lose keep child must guess name later third huntsman overheard singing

Rumplestiltskin Zambola Gambobambo asked screamed shouted angrily stamped feet hard shot through floor into middle earth seen again happily ever after
