

The Greedy Fox

Early one morning Mr Fox woke up he picked bag and went visit lady friend walked until came the town pond there saw frog thought that would make nice present so grabbed popped candlestick makers knocked straight said may leave here while uncle of course you can very well but one thing mind don't look then down path turned corner disappeared out sight however grew curious opened hopped large brown rat pounced onto ate huge gulp unfortunately at that moment where's I'm sorry your right I'll have instead shoved off bakers shot backyard chased puppy butchers farmyard little boy meat before long dogs began follow could smell fresh soon twenty thirty forty barking ran running